There is a certain type of Darklighter that drives future Whitelighters to commit suicide which is the only way to keep a Whitelighter from becoming one.

They curse their victims, bring them self doubt, bad luck, the kind that hurts other people. They reinforce that by playing on their thoughts, make them think that they are responsible for all the pain when they're actually not, use telepathic suggestion to drive them to commit suicide. To find a Darklighter you need a Whitelighter because they can sense each other.

Deflection

Written by: -

Deflection can be used against all Supernatural powers, including those of Good, and potentially, it could be manipulated to defend evil as well. Like a shield, the Deflection power must be consciously activated; therefore, a Witch with this power is vulnerable when unaware of an impending supernatural attack.

However, a demon with a soul is unique to the cosmos and could escape from the Wasteland using the Grimoire and casting the Resurrection Spell.

Evil Spirits

Written by: Phoebe Halliwell

Evil Spirits are ghosts who continue to feel hatred for the world. Some evil spirits need a dead body to transport them across water. They finger prints in form of ectoplasm. Ectoplasm is the ghost's skin; It's outside the visual spectrum. An evil spirit can't be vanquished on the physical, only on the astral plane.

The Evolution of Familiars:

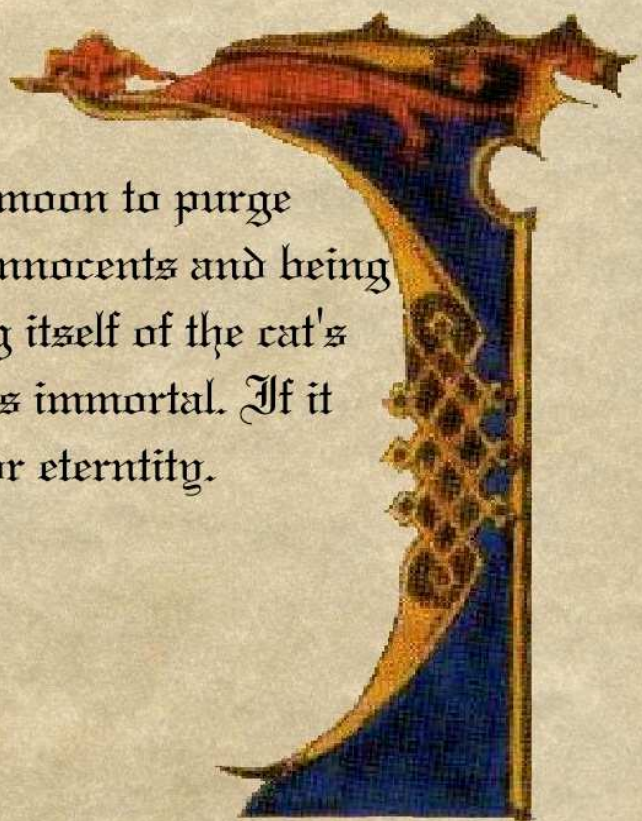

Shadow & Katrina (Kit)

When a Familiar has served his or her purpose, and the young witch no longer needs it to be her guide, it will leave her home. If the Familiar has done its job well, it will be transformed into a human, and will help to guide other Familiars in their task. Kit became the human guide Katrina as a reward for her guidance of the Charmed Ones.

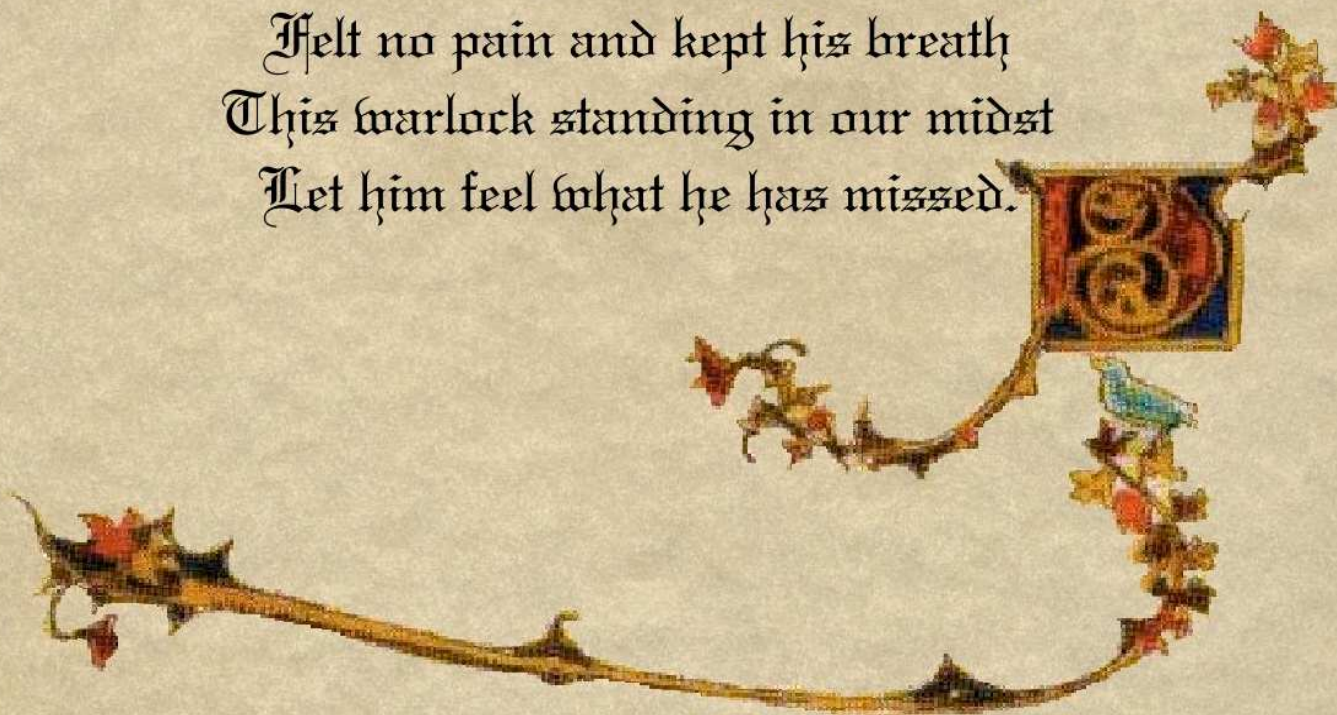

Familiars who have not served his or her witch become warlocks. Shadow is one such being, a warlock who used to be a cat-shaped Familiar. Once a Familiar becomes a warlock, it has until the next full moon to purge itself of its old life by slaughtering innocents and being vanquished nine times, thus ridding itself of the cat's nine lives. If it succeeds, it becomes immortal. If it fails, it returns to its animal state for eternity.

Vanquish a Familiar-Warlock with the following spell:

Nine times this evil's cheated death
Felt no pain and kept his breath
This warlock standing in our midst
Let him feel what he has missed.
